

The Week in Astoria Society

Items of Social Interest are solicited for these columns and should be sent direct to the Astorian office to insure their insertion.

Wednesday evening of last week Miss Nan Reed entertained at her home on Bond street, a linen shower given in honor of Miss Higgins whose engagement to Mr. Walter Stokes has some time ago been announced. The pleasant affair was attended by about 40 guests and a most enjoyable time was had by card playing and other social amusements. The house was very prettily decorated, cut flowers of various descriptions having a prominent part in the scheme. Among the guests present: The Mesdames Nelson Troyer, J. D. McGowan, H. S. McGowan, H. D. Thing, Albert Dunbar, E. R. Blair, W. E. Tallant, C. H. Callender, R. E. Carruthers, C. R. Higgins, J. E. Higgins, Percy Willis and Mr. Tuttle of Fort Columbia; John P. Badollet, F. Simington, J. M. Holt, H. L. Knight, F. H. Harriden, G. W. Warren, F. Spittle, W. A. Sherman, Chas. Richardson, The Misses Reba Hobson, Harriet Tallant, Winnifred Higgins, Marguerite Higgins, Kate Flavel, Nellie Flavel, Olga Heilborn, Sadie Crang, Mable Simington, Irene Simington, Mary Berry, Anna Gilbert, Mamie Fosset, Dora Badollet, Grace Stokes, Miss Zigler of McGowan, Miss Bartlett of St. Jose, Cal.; Miss Bess Reed and Miss Pearl Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Bergman who have been in San Francisco, returned from that city the early part of last week. During their visit there they attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bergman of San Francisco. A large number of Mr. Bergman's friends and relatives were present at the happy affair that was given at the well known Tait's Grill. During the progress of the banquet Mr. A. Bergman, who is a brother of Mr. I. Bergman of this city read many letters and telegrams he had received and in response to them, and in answer to the many toasts of the assembled guests Mr. Bergman arose and delivered the following toast which by the way was of his own invention:

Welcome friends, we greet you tonight
At this festive board all happy and bright;
Fifty years ago the twentieth of September
We joined our hands and hearts,
For woe or wealth,
A happy life to enter.
We went through life these many years
In happiness or sorrow;
And our love was strong and we did not care
What the day would bring tomorrow,
And all what's good in life today
Is wished us by our friends who pray
That we may long together stay,
And let this golden wedding be
A continuance of our love
And blessings will be showered down
From heaven on above.
And now, good friends, all that are here
Be merry and happy at this good cheer;
And now I again will take my seat
So you can laugh, and sing, and eat.

The members of the Saturday Afternoon Club were entertained by Mrs. S. Morton last Friday at her home at Knappton. The ladies went over the river on a Callender steamer and returned in the evening.

The ladies of the Friday Afternoon Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Warriner on Grand avenue during the past week.

An amateur performance will be given by the students of the Astoria High School Friday evening, October 16th. The performance will take place at the Astoria theatre. "The Trials of Mr. Flipper" will be the play presented for which the receipts will go for the benefit of the library fund. Former amateurs given by the alumni have met with decided success and Messrs. Lawrence Rogers and Henry Skibbe under whose direction the play will be staged are confident that this performance will be far in advance of any yet given.

At a crawfish supper given by Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Stokes last Monday evening at their home the following prominent guests were present: Senator and Mrs. C. W. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Prael, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sanborn and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Parker.

Mrs. F. A. Fisher's pretty home on Grand avenue was the scene of a delightful "at home" reception yesterday afternoon. A large number of guests were present and a pleasant social time was experienced by all.

The club known as the "Merry Widows" decided to change their name at the last session of the organization on last Wednesday night, and they will hereafter be known as the "Wick Wick" club. The members of the club were entertained at the home of Miss Fay Ball on Exchange street during the past week the feature of the session being card games. The winners of the prize gifts offered were Miss Lois Parker and Miss Drain.

The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Harry M. Flavel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Flavel of this city to Miss Elizabeth A. Patrican of Tacoma in Saturday morning's Astorian caused not a little comment in this city on the morning of the announcement. The young people in the case it is understood had only known each other for four or five days before they were married and this being the fact it most certainly must have been a case of "love at first sight." The happy event was successfully kept in strict secrecy until the eve of the wedding and the ceremony was witnessed by only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. The Rev. W. S. Short of the Grace Church united the happy young couple at the Callender home. After the ceremony the bride and groom proceeded to Seaside, where they expect to spend a short honeymoon. The bride is a talented and gracious young lady who has been visiting in Astoria, at the homes of the Foards and the Barrs, for a short time, and the course of true love in this case sped on to a speedy wedding. At the ceremony quite a few were present. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callender, Miss Winnie Higgins, Miss Irene Simington, Miss Freda Foard, and Edward Higgins and George Prescott Wright. Later others were invited and a merry party gathered.

Miss Annie Bayard of this city left for points in Washington last Wednesday at the advice of her physician. Miss Bayard it will be remembered met with quite a serious accident on last July 4th, when she was accidentally shot in the back of the head from the discharge of a cannon at the hands of a certain careless young man around town. Since the accident however the wound in Miss Bayard's head has apparently healed up completely but the young ladies' health has never been the same, and it is for this reason that her doctor has advised a change of scene and climate which he hopes will restore Miss Bayard's former good health. Word was received by the young ladies' parents last night that she was at this time in Kelso, Wash., and was feeling much improved both in health and spirits.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. John T. Allen entertained a few friends at their cozy home on Ninth street, those present being Miss Helen Vilas of Seattle who has been the guest of Miss Mabel Taylor of Flavel, during the summer, who returned home Friday after a most enjoyable visit. The following were present: Miss Elsie Elmore, Miss Taylor and Miss Grace Stokes and Mr. Rosa Trullinger, Mr. Woodfield and Bert Allen. Cards were the principal amusement of the evening.

Last Thursday evening at 5 o'clock Florence, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goddard, was married to Mr. Arthur B. Elbon. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home on Franklin avenue in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the families, the Rev. John Warren officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Goddard, and the groom's brother, Mr. Jennings Elbon, acted as best man.

The regular session of the D. M. C. D. Club was held last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. L. Knight on Exchange street. Officers for the ensuing term were elected when Miss Fossett was selected president and Miss Alma Holmes secretary and treasurer.

Miss Alice Bartlett left for Santa Cruz, Cal., her home, last Wednesday after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. George Warren at Warrenton.

Mrs. D. Morgan of this city is now in Hillsboro, Or., where she will spend about a month visiting with friends.

Mrs. H. F. Prael last Monday afternoon at her home on Grand avenue, entertained the members of the Monday Club of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Gertrude Upshur left the early part of last week for the east on an extended visit with his sister, Mrs. Alexander Brown, who resides in Richmond, Vir.

Last Monday Mrs. J. M. Ellsworth and daughter Ethel who for many years have made their home in this city left for Portland where they will permanently reside in the future.

Miss Amy Rannels was among the departures from this city last night for Portland where she goes for a visit over Sunday.
